Judges' decision indictment quas expected by Friday problem is not on the face of the

BY DENA BISNETTE Two Circuit Court judges will decide by Friday whether or not to quash indictments handed down by the January Grand Juries in Hancock and Harrison

Judge James Thomas, presding over the current term of court in Hancock County, was joined Wednesday morning by Judge Kosta Vlahos to hear arguments for and against quashing the indictments, which involve more than a dozen people including Melvin Joseph, charged with the mur-der of his wife, Diana Joseph. According to Boyce Holle-man, one of several defense attorneys whose clients are included in the indictments, to quash an indictment would mean that the person charged would have to be re-indicted during the next Grand Jury.

Hancock County's next Grand Jury is scheduled for January 1989. The other attorneys included Albert Necaise, Public Defen-ders Nicholas Haas and Stephen Benvenutti, Richard Diamond, James Rose and Herman Cox. MASSistant District Affordey DeWitt Alfred represented the district attorney's office. Holleman explained that a motion to quash an indictment is made in the case where the indictment, meaning contained in the document itself. Instead, the problem is something exter-nal, as in this case where one of the major issues is whether the Grand Jury involved was called back to court by the proper authority.

The attorneys are question-ing whether District Attorney Glen Cannon had the authority to recall the Grand Jury or whether that authority rests solely with the judges. Also contended is the absence of written orders from the district attorney's office for the recess and recall of the jurors. An additional question that surfaced during arguments was whether it is proper for a district attorney to recall a Grand Jury without notifying the Circuit Court judges. Thomas pointed out that having a Grand Jury reconvene is not a major problem in the Harrison County Courthouse as far as facilities are concerned, because there is an extra courtroom there which is rarely used.

In Hancock County, however, the Circuit Court must compete for space with Chancers Court the Board of Supervisors, whose meeting room next to the building's only courtroom is used for juries or proceedings when chancery and circuit judges are both in session; and lawyers

Controversial ordinance canned by Bay council

BY D.C. HARVILL

The Bay St. Louis City Council voted Tuesday night to rescind a controversial ordinance which outlawed open glass containers and the consumption of alcoholic beverages on city property.

Ordinance 320 has been the subject of public outcry since it was passed by the council in May. At a public hearing in June, it drew heavy criticism from a cross section of the community on grounds that it infringes on people's rights and is discriminatory. Many black members of the community view the ordinance as discriminatory since it was passed primarily as a reaction-ary response to incidents which occurred on the street near black nightclubs at the corner of St. Francis and Sycamore Streets.

The motion to rescind the ordinance was introduced by Councilman John Wilkerson and passed before a full council with only member James Thriffiley in opposition.

Councilman Lisa Cowand said she was in agreement with Wilkerson and that she doesn't believe the present ordinance is enforceable. Mayor Victor Franciewicz, a major proponent of the ordinance said, "I am willing to tailor it anyway you like. We haven't had any disturbances back on the corner since it was passed, but that doesn't mean we don't need an ordinance."

The ordinance was strictly for my area. Lisa, John and I feel like it shouldn't be like that and we are glad it is gone," councilman Charles Johnson

"We all like to walk out with our soft drinks; we are a resort area, I don't see anything wrong with that. If a person causes a problem, deal with him; I don't think I should have to put up my beer and liquor because of a few people," Johnson said.

"I never felt like we needed an ordinance that hard. I don't think the police were handling the situation right. They could handle it right if they knew how," he added. Police Chief Ray Murphy

Gex files answer to Bourg's appeal of disqualification

BY DENA BISNETTE

The Hancock County Election Commission's Attorney, Gerald Gex, has filed a response in Hancock County Circuit Court to a complaint from a disqualified candidate for Beat Three supervisor.

Hilda Bourg had been turned down as a candidate by the election commission Sept. 12, when the other candidates for local races included in the Nov. 8 general election were qualified.

Bourg, who had recently resigned as a member of the Hancock County Democratic Executive Committee in an effort to improve her qualifying chances, was disqualified when Gex advised the election commission that, according to two precedent cases, she was covered by the same statute that prevents an election commissioner from running for another office during his term

Section 23-15-217 of the Mississippi Code of 1972 prohibits an election comissioner from running even if he resigns before his term expires, based on his direct involvement in elections.

The two cases, Meeks Vs. Tallahatchie County and Breland vs. Mallett, apply that statute to members of county party executive committees.

Bourg has contended that the two cases do not apply because the Nov. 8 supervisor's race in Beat Three is a special election, with no primary and no involvement by party executive com-mittees. She filed a petition of appeal last week which gave 14 reasons she feels she should not be disqualified.

For example, she contends that the Breland Case, which involved a Stone County supervisor candidate who had taken a leave of absence from the county Democratic Executive Committee yet participated in safternoon that he had not yet the preparations and vote tabulations for other races involved, does not apply to her.

The response that Gex filed recounts the actions of the commission in disqualifying her.

He states that she was extended the opportunity to protest her disqualification to the commission and she stated "her position, which, in essence, was the same as set out in her petition of appeal."

"The election commission would show unto the court that it did grant Mrs. Bourg a due process hearing," the document

He then explains the precedent set in the Meeks case, in which the Mississippi Supreme Court stated that "a person as an election commissioner is not qualified to seek any office during their four-year term regardless of when they resigned from said commission," as Gex paraphrased it, and that "We (the justices ruling on the case) do not read the statute to allow Meeks to shorten the period of his disqualification by resigning the office of election commissioner.' The Breland case dealt more with the penalty clause of the statute, stating, "Accordingly, this Court concludes that the penalty clause of the statute which prohibits a member of the election commission from being a candidate during the term of their office as election commissioner equally applies to a person who was a member of the Democratic executive committee of Stone County, Mississippi."

Gex asks that the court either affirm the disqualification, or, if it finds that the election commission was in error, decide that she is qualified in time to put her name on the Nov. 8 ballot.

Gex stated late Wednesday been notified regarding when Circuit Judge James Thomas will hear the matter, but expects Bourg's appeal to be heard during the current court term so that a decision may be rendered prior to the election.

The biggest celebration for the Centennial Celebration for the City of Waveland will be held on Saturday. October 15, which is fast approaching.

One of the big things for that day will be a parade through the streets of Waveland.

Lawrence Freeman, coordinator for the Centennial parade is still in need of entries for the event.

Marching groups, antique automobiles, carriages, bicycles, decorated floats, trucks, trailers, autos, wagons, horses, organizations, individuals are all needed to make this a large and historical parade.

Interested parties can call Freeman at 467-5606 for further information.

The Sixth Annual Arts & Craft Show at Diamondhead will be held Saturday from 9:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. It seems the Arts & Crafts event gets larger each year and we understand over 150 booths will be there this year.

We have attended these shows over the years and it always amazes me at the many varieties of items which are available for purchase.

Many folks begin their Christmas shopping at the show, because there are many items which can fill the bill for those hard-to-please individuals.

For those who are unable to or do not like to walk a distance, this year there will be satellite parking in the Shopping Center's parking lot. We are told transportation from the parking lot to the Arts & Crafts show will be in Vans for $1 round trip.

Some of the proceeds from the event will go towards Diamondhead Academy for such items as building improvements, audio visuals, expanding library and computer hardware.

We hope to see you at the Arts & Crafts Show on Saturday is also the big Coastal Lend a Hand in the Sand Mississippi Shoreline Cleanup.

Many of us along the Mississippi Coast have been meeting over the past month making preparations for this event like others have from the states of Florida, Alabama, Louisiana and Texas.

Our waterways are clogged with litter of all types and the recent storms pushed a lot more ashore.

Your help is needed in Hancock County for this cleanup and there will be registrations beginning at 8:30 a.m. at the Washington Street pier, Garfield Ladner Memorial pier, Clermont Harbor Methodist Church, Lakeshore Gulfview School and Pearlington Communitv Center.

The cleanup will run from 9 a.m. until noon and will end with hot dogs and Cokes for participants at the Garfield Ladner pier at 12:15 p.m.

We ask everyone to be careful, wear gloves and boots. and children to be accompanied by an adult.

This is a Hancock County Chamber of Commerce cosponsored event which is planned and coordinated by the Mississippi Marine Trash Task Force.

We hope to see you at the cleanup.

P.S. We have plenty of bags for the trash collection.

While on the subject of cleanup, the Bay St. Louis Businessmen's Association has adopted U.S.-90 from Beach Boulevard to Seminary Drive.

The group of volunteers gather each Monday evening and collect litter from the highway as a beautification project.

Wouldn't it be nice if we could have other groups or organizations adopt other sections of the highway?

Area high school football teams should all be on regular schedule on Friday night of this week.

Last week's weather led to the canceling of one game, and another game was moved to Monday night.

Hopefully the hurricane threats are over for us for a long time to come.

The undefeated Hawks of Hancock North Central will host the Pirates of Pass Christian at Hancock Stadium Friday night.

Hancock has been impressive this season.

The Pirates will have to come up with some type of secret weapon to take the high-flying Hawks. One never knows what a young team can do.

Stanislaus' game last week was canceled due to Hurricane Gilbert's threat, so the Rock-A-Chaws have had two weeks to prepare for a visit to Long Beach.

The Bearcats can be tough, especially at home, so Stanislaus will have to have a good game to continue their winning streak.

The Tigers of Bay High play host to Vancleave's Bulldogs on Friday night.

The Tigers lost to a strong Pearl River Central on Monday night, so they have had little time in preparation for Vancleave. Bay High will need a lot of fan support in the stadium on Friday against the Bulldogs. All of our local high school teams need good fan support each Friday, so we hope to see you at the game.

Mississippi makes mark on Far East investors

From now into the 21st Century, the economic future of Mississippi—as well as the region-will be closely linked to the world economy. Our ability to compete for jobs and prosperity will rest in large part on how well we participate in this global economy.

I can happily report to you this week that Mississippi and the Mid South region has made its mark on the Far East—a part of the world expected to play a dominate role in the future world economy.

I, along with Mississippi businessmen and state economic development officials, have forged some important ties with China and Japan. Properly nurtured, these ties could develop into trade, foreign investment in Mississippi or joint business

My bottom line goal is more jobs and income for Mississippians.

Although we did not expect any immediate results to come out of this first trip, some exciting developments did take place.

The governor of Hainan Island-China's newest province—and I signed a letter intent to enter into a sister state/province relationship sometime in the near future. Such an agreement could be the key to opening up trade with Hainan, which has been given unique freedom by the Chinese to develop its economy.

China is extremely well suited to import Mississippi products such as poultry, catfish, fertilizer and timber.

Also while in China I met a vice premier of that country. He as very optimistic about the possibility of economic cooperation between Misissippi and

In Japan, I linked up with Govs. Bill Clinton of Arkansas and Buddy Roemer of Louisiana to promote the Mid South region. One of the highlights of that portion of the trade mission was a lengthy meeting with Japanese Prime Minster Noboru Takeshita.

We also met with top corporate officials and organizations, and all expressed great interest in our state and the region. In many ways, this trade mission was an opportunity to acquaint the movers and shakers in Japan and China with Mississippi and the Mid South. It is a necessary first step that must be built upon.

To understand the importance of establishing and maintaining ties with the Far East, all we need to do is look to the example of former governors George Bushee of Georgia and Lamar Alexander of Tennessee. Both conducted regular foreign trade missions that bore fruit.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Election Commissioner defends Bourg certification stand

To the Editor:

I would like to respond to the letter by Ms.Mary E. McDonnell on the decision by the Hancock County Election Commission not to certify Hilda Bourg as a candidate in the Nov. 8 Special Election.

Ms. McDonnell states that "The Election Commission is a group of five people untrained in law." What Ms. McDonnell doesn't know is that before an election commissioner can conduct an election he/she must be certified by the Secretary of State's Office. Ms. McDonnell also fails to state that the Election Commission acted on the advice of Mr. Gerald Gex, attorney for Hancock County.

Ms. McDonnell stated that she feels that her rights were violated by the Hancock County Election Commission. It was not the election commission that violated her rights, but a ridiculous law that the entire election commission feels is possibly unconstitutional. Ms. McDonnell would have known the commission's feeling on this if she would have attended the commission meeting Sept. 12 instead of relying on secondhand information.

Although the election commission views this law as ridiculous and possibly unconstitutional, that is not a decision for the commission to make. The commission is governed by laws not personal options. As long as the law is in the Election Code. the commission has no choice, but to abide by it.

Yes, Ms. McDonnell, we do live in a Democracy, and as long as our elected officials follow the law we will continue to do

Sincerely, James A. Ladner Jr. Election Commissioner Dist. One Hancock County

Plood insurance beneficial in hurricane prone areas

How many storms are left for the 1988 hurricane season? No one knows for sure, but chances are good that the worst is yet to come: While hurricane season runs from June through November, historical data show that hearly 90 percent of the hurricanes striking the United States in this century made landfall between August and November.

Little can be done to protect property against the severe damage caused by hurricanes, but insurance can provide financial protection against storm losses.

Most homeowners' policies contain coverage for wind damage, but flood damage, often the most destructive element of a hurricane, is specifically excluded, according to Federal Insurance Administrator Harold T. Durvee. He also notes, "many property owners discover their homeowners' policies do not cover flood loses only after a storm has hit," and adds that, *A separate policy must be purchased for financial protection from flooding."

Flood insurance coverage is available in any of nearly 18,000 communities nationwide that have agreed to participate in the national Flood Insurance Program (NFIP). and it is not limited to those buildings in special flood hazard area.

"In fact," Duryee reports,
"over a third of flood claims paid have been for losses that occurred in areas identified as having only minimal to moderate flood risk."

Flood insurance may be purchased from any licensed property and casualty insurance agent. Policies are then processed through the federal government's NFIP or through the many insurance companies who have signed arrangements with FIA, a part of the Federal Emergency Management Agency, to sell and service flood insurance under their own names under the Write Your Own program.

REAL ESTATE VIEWS

FORECLOSURE IS SERIOUS ...

Question: I have been out of work for three months and thus have had a difficult time making my house payment. Should I stop making payments and let the lender foreclose on my house? J.M. McComb

Answer: Dear J.M.:

No! If you are facing default on your home mortgage, there are a number of steps you should take in lieu of having the lender foreclose on your house.

First, and most important, talk with your lender. Let him know as soon as possible that storms developed into hurri- you have run into serious finan-monthly payment, without adding to the length of your Whatever you work out, the lender will have to be involved. If the lender agrees to a certain plan, the lending institution may hold off from taking legal action to get back the money.

If satisfactory arrangements cannot be worked out, foreclosure is the legal process by which the lender takes the house from you and sells it to pay off the money you owe.

Remember, however, that under foreclosure you lose the house, possibly all of the money you put into it and most definitely your credit rating. Try all alternatives.

Bulldogs to play on Florida turf

Mississippi State and Flo ida, two regular opponents on the gridiron for all but two years since 1954, square off Saturday at Florida Field on the University of Florida campus. Kickoff is set for 12:30 p.m. and a crowd in excess of 70,000 is anticipated. The Bulldogs bring a 1-2 record into the game, having come up just short in an impressive upset bid of seventhranked Georgia in Starkville, 42-35, this past Saturday. The Gators are 3-0 overall and unbeaten in Southeastern Conference play, having sand-wiched lopsided wins over Mon-tana State (69-0) and Indiana State (58-0) around a 27-15 victory over Mississippi.

The Gators own a 25-15-2 edge in a 65-year-old rivalry that commenced with a 13-13 1923 deadlock in Jacksonville, Fia. Saturday's game will mark the schools' 27th consecutive meeting and 43rd overall. Florida leads 14-7-1 in games played in Gainesville while State leads 4-3 in games played at Starkville. On neutral turf, Florida has managed a 8-4-1 advantage. The Bulldogs— versus Florida—are 4-6 in Jackson, Miss.; 0-0-1 in Jacksonville, Fla.; 0-1 in Montgomery, Ala.; and 0-1 in Tampa, Fla. State enters the contest looking to snap an 11-game losing streak at Gainesville's Florida Field. The Bulldogs last won on the Gators' home turf in 1965, an 18-13 decision that marked aul Davis' lone victory over orida in five attempts as

COUNTY AGENT NOTES By Lee Taylor

GROWING STRAWBERRIES

Strawberries may well be an pcoming alternative crop in Mississippi. Many farm families have already found that growing blueberries or muscadines can supply extra income.

A few individuals who have tried to grow strawberries have found that they can be profitable. Home gardeners are also interested in growing this fruit. As a result of all this interest, strawberry production in Mississippi has increased.

Strawberries can be a success story for you, but only if you're willing to develop a good production program. Your choice of plants and a bed to plant them will determine whether or not you will be successful.

Some strawberry diseases may destroy your planting, while others may weaken your plants and reduce their yield. These diseases may appear on the plants at certain times, or they may remain invisible yet so check your small grain crop do their damage.

If you have decided to plant strawberries, order the plants well in advance of planting time. Many nurseries require you to place your order as much as six months in advance. Don't wait until the last minute.

Always order your plants from a reputable nursery. We have a list of these nurseries at the Hancock County Extension Office, so do come by. Information on weed control, diseases and irrigation is available too.

SMALL GRAIN PESTS

Farmers in Hancock County will be planting winter wheat, barley and oats within the next couple of months. We have had heavy infestations of armyworms in our pastures this summer, and the potential is there for these pests to attack our small grain crops this fall.

Armyworms will attack the plants as they begin to emerge, when it comes up. If you find armyworms, treat with sevin, dylox or methyl parathion. Refer to product labels for application directions.

BUCKING WITH CHAIN SAWS

Fall weather will soon be upon us, and many of you will be out cutting firewood and clearing brush. Cutting the trunk of felled trees—called bucking can be safe and easy if you work clear of brush.

Block the tree, if necessary, so it won't roll. Work on the uphill side. Start your cut so the log will open and prevent saw bind. As you complete the cut, slow the saw motor and be alert for kickback.

Make sure you are not sawing toward some part of your body. Don't allow the saw tip to grab or ride up out of the cut toward you. Good saw operation does not come naturally. You must be careful, and you must

Farm Safety Week observed

Danger lurks on many Mississippi farms.Accidents continue to result in the loss of lives, serious injuries and illnesses among farmers each

In response to this serious problem, the Mississippi Farm Bureau Federation is joining with other agricultural organizations across the nation and with the National Safety Council in observing National Farm Safety Week, President Ronald Reagan has proclaimed Sept. 18-24 as the 45th observance of this week of intense focus on farm safety. Hugh Arant of Ruleville, president of the federation, has called on farm families across the state to heed safety warnings emphasized during Farm Safety Week.

"Farming is among the most dangerous of occupations. Preventable accidents on farms cost hundreds of lives and millions of dollars each year.

"Many of the things that can protect the health and save the lives of farmers and their loved ones are just plain common sense actions," Arant said.

Micahel Blankeship, director of the federation's safety disadvantage in that farmers do not have safety specialist con their work sites to observe hazards, to train workers and to be sure that precautions are followed. Each farmer must be his or her own safety specialist. "Our safety staff is dedicated to helping farmers make their. work environment as safe as possible, but the individual farmers must practice some common sense measures as they go. about their work," Blankenship concluded. During the past 12 months the federation's safety staff has presented some 588 safety programs to over 28,000 Mississippians. Accidental deaths among Farm Bureau members in the state decreased almost 50 percent during the 12-month period of November 1987 to Octob-

Drought relief bill to benefit state farmers

Congress and the White House have reached agreement on an emergency drought relief bill that will provide millions of dollars to Mississippi farmers. The $3.9 billion measure, the product of a bipartisan effort to address the problems caused by the record dry weather, moved through the Congress in near record time, with members showing unusual restraint in holding the bill within the budget. At the same time, the bill represents another major break from the early policies of the Reagan Administration. State agriculture officials predict that the bill will significantly reduce the losses caused by the drought in Mississippi, which experts now place at $450 million. "It's going to be a great help to both our row crop and livestock producers," says a spokesman for the Mississippi Department of Agriculture and Commerce.

Under the measure, farmers who have lost more than 35 percent of their crops because of the summer drought will receive payments for 65 percent of their losses. Those who have been particularly hard hit will be able to receive up to 90 percent compensation for portions of their losses. No one farmer, however, would be eligible to receive more than $100,000 in drought disaster assistance.

While farmers in the midwest and northern plains will be the main beneficiaries of the bill, many Mississippi growers will qualify for aid. The state's soybean farmers could receive major disaster relief payments.

Although recent rains have helped soybean growers, 40 percent of the state's crop is still rated poor.

One of the more controversial subjects during work on the bill was an effort to help livestock producers cope with the increase in feed costs resulting from the drought. Congressman Mike Espy, a member of the House Agricul-ture Committee, pushed hard to get catfish included in the livestock assistance program. "Catfish farmers are sustaining stress in obtaining the necessary funding to offset their increased feeding costs," Espy argued on the House floor, adding that corn and soybean meal make up 75 percent of the total ration in catfish feed. Although relief for catfish growers and other livestock producers was in the original package, the final bill limits livestock feed assistance to producers who grow their own feed, but this will be helpful to many state hog and cattle farmers who have suffered losses in their corn and silage crops. Drafters cited the $2.5 billion price tag as the reason for deleting assistance for those producers who must purchase their

Espy feels that focusing on the situation of catfish growers will ultimately help the state's catfish industry. "We used this opportunity to educate other congressmen about the production of catfish, so that next time they will have a better understanding of how the catfish industry works," says Espy's agriculture aids.

The state's timber industry also will benefit from a provision championed by Senator Thad Cochran, a senior member of the Senate Agriculture Committee. Under the legislation, commercial tree growers who have lost recently planted seedlings because of the hot dry weather will be eligible for federal assistance with the cost of replanting.

In a remarkable display of fiscal restraint, Congress resisted the temptation to add the basic drought relief bill. The cost of the final version is lower than either the House bill or the Senate bill, a reversal of the usual outcome.

Because of the drought, federal spending on regular farm income support programs will run as much as $6 billion below the figure budgeted for the year. This unspent money will be allocated to pay for the drought bill, thus holding it within the budget Congress adopted earlier in the year.

The quick action on the drought relief bill is another illustration of the demise of earlier Reagan era policies. Shortly 1981, the Administration announced that it was killing an existing emergency disaster assistance program operated by the Department of Agriculture, in an effort to cut federal spending and reduce government influence over the agricultural economy.

The program the Admi-nistration eliminated was designed to provide quick relief to farmers in situations such as those caused by this summer's drought. It would have made the current legislation unnecessary.

COOKING UP A STORM

By Katy McGuire

Many Spanish cooks insist that the use of olive oil in soups and stews gives them a meatier flavor-in fact, as my sister-in-law, Maria Garcia Daly, who hails from Spin, taught me long ago, olive oil is the real essence of Spanish cooking, used in meat and seafood dishes, vegetables, salads, of course, and so forth.

Spanish cooks often garnish their stews with olives or slices of hard-cooked egg, for they believe, as most experienced cooks do, that a dish must appeal to the eye as well as to the tongue.

For these busy fall days, a hearty and filling 'stretchable' stew is the answer to many family meals, for it can simmer for a long time without losing its flavor, and tastes even better when reheated for a second meal.

I usually make double batches, freeze some, perhaps make a meat pie at times. Here's:

SPANISH STYLE

STEW 2 1/2-3 lbs. beef, cubed 1/4 cup Spanish olive oil 3 green onions, chopped 1 or 2 garlic cloves, crushed 1 can (16 oz.) peeled tomatoes, with their liquid

1/2 cup burgundy wine 1 cup beef stock (or consomme or water)

Pepper, salt to your taste 3 hard-cooked eggs, sliced

Brown the meat in heated olive oil, then push to the side of your pot and add the green onions, cooking them until tender. Add the garlic, then the tomatoes and juice, and the wine, and simmer for five minutes or so. Add the stock. pepper and salt and bring almost to a boil.

Turn down the fire, cover and simmer until the meat is tender, an hour or longer if necessary.

Then you may wish to add cooked green beans or green peas or small potatoes or artichoke hearts to the whole business, and cover the pot again and simmer till it's all tender and tasty. Top with egg slices, if you wish. (Six to eight servings)

Some cooks prefer to use boneless beef for their stew, but my father always insisted that at least a few pieces of beef with bone-in be added for extra flavor and substance, and I follow his method.

You may wish to substitute lamb cubes for the beef, or for that matter, chicken pieces, adjusting your cooking time as

He also noted that the second time the Grand Jury met in January, no indictments were issued, and the next time, only one was issued.

"I urge the court to remember that you do not need to and should not reach for a reason to throw out these indictments. Leave for another time the question of how this should be done," Allred said, contending that the only issue that should be considered is whether the indictments themselves were done properly.

"I think the whole crux of the common question here is whether this was a valid Grand Jury," Vlahos stated.

The two judges told the attorneys that they expect to render a decision by Friday and the cases involved will have to be delayed until then.

Local coin telephones to convert to dial-tone first service Sept. 26

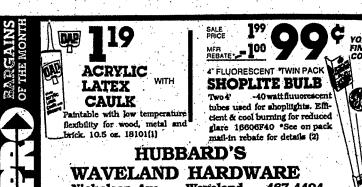

South Central Bell coin telephones in Bay St.Louis, Pass Christian, Pearlington and Bayou LaTerre will soon be converted to dial-tone first service by Sept. 26," according to Pat Santucci, district manager. With dial-tone first, callers will hear a dial tone when they pick up the receiver to place a call. They will be able to dial emergency calls from a coin telephone to 911 or the "0" operator without depositing any coins. In addition, dial-tone first sets will also allow callers to reach directory assistance in Mississippi (1+411 and 1+555-1212) and to place 1+800, credit card, and 0+ calls (billéd to a third number or billed collect) without needing to deposit coins.

This conversion will make it easier and more convenient for callers to place emergency calls as well as local or long distance calls that are not going to be paid by depositing coins," Santucci said. Local calls and long distance calls paid for by the caller by depositing coins will continue to be handled just as they are today. Instruction cards will be laced on all South Central Bell de Clephones that will pre-ride step-by-step instructions for using dial-tone first service," Santucci added.

The arrest of a man on drug charges in Kiln Sunday night led to another arrest Monday and the possible seizure of a farm in Pearl River County. Hancock County Sheriff's personnel arrested Donald J. Carver, 25, of Harrison County Sunday night at the intersection of Highway 603 and Kiln-Delisle Road and confiscated 10 one-pound bags of marijuana.

Carver, on parole for burglary, allegedly came to the kill area to sell the marijuana to an unknown party, according to Investigator Glenn Strong.

Charged with possession of a controlled substance with intent to distribute and for violating his parole, Carver is in Hancock County jail without

As a result of Carver's arrest, Pearl River County Sheriff's Department was able to arrest Wade E. Hicks, 55, of the Savannah Community on Monday. Hicks has been charged with one count of the sale of marijuana over one kilo; one count possession controlled substance, marijuana over one kilo; and probation violation, according to Pearl River Sheriff Lorance

Pearl River's sheriff's office may confiscate Hick's farm and van because of the arrest.

"We will file for confiscation of the house and about 40 to 45 acres and his 1986 van," Lumpkin said.

Pearl River and Hancock County sheriff's officers assisted by U.S. Customs agents seized nine pounds of marijuana inside Hick's house at the time of arrest. Twenty pounds more were found the following day hidden on the grounds in steel drums, according to Lumpkin. He said the case is not closed, yet, and he feels they haven't found all of the marijuana on

The Tigers go up against Vancleave after losing 21-6 to Pearl River Central in a game that had to be delayed one night due to weather.

"Bay High didn't play up to the team's capabilities and they (Pearl River Central) played real well," Tiger Head Coach Bob Lumpkin said.

"We played flat, uninspired football. We don't know why. We're looking for the reason right now, this week in practice.

He said Vancleave has a twoone record. The team has a high speed factor that the Tigers will have to contain, as well as good-

They have one excellent back: Donnell Payton is his name. He's definitely one of the stand-outs in this area and he's only a junior. We had trouble stopping him last year, even though we won," Lumpkin said. He said one of the problems the Tigers had in stopping Payton was that he had good offensive blockers covering him. The coach explained that Vancleave, in its first year under a new coach, Hal Holmes, went through a rebuilding year last year that was similar to what the Tigers are going through now.

"It wasn't close last year, but they were coming. This year, they have arrived," Lumpkin explained.

He said Vancleave is a wellbalanced team that "can do a lot of things well."

"I hope we can get redirected and ready to play football again. We have got to get aggressive. The Pearl River game was the first time this year I have been disappointed with the team's

The Tigers also are having some problems with injuries. For example, David LeGros may have to start Friday at guard for Doral Nichols, who is doubtful for this week's game.

Gametime Friday is 7:30 at J.D. McCullouch Field.

CEHS to host Trinity Episcopal

Coast Episcopal High School Raiders fell to the Pine Hills Academy Wildcats 22-6 Saturday afternoon.

The Wildcats scored first early in the game then Raider quarterback Rea Montjoy scampered 65 yards to narrow the gap 7-6 late in the first half. However, with the score still 7-6 two minutes into the fourth quarter, the Wildcats exploded off tackle for a 20-yard touchdown that proved to be the winning margin. Other students for the Raiders were flanker Billy Guice with two receptions for 60 yards and running back Hutson Lambert who gained over 50 yards on eight carries.

Defensive accolades go to safety Scott Covode and nose tackle Beau Lambert, who shared high tackling honors. Defensive tackle Sean Bell continues to exhibit great improvement each week.

The Raiders host Trinity Episcopal School of Natchez at 2 p.m. Saturday on the St. Stanislaus field.

Pirates to hit the Hawks at Hancock Friday night

BY D.C. HARVILL The Pass High Pirates are looking for a comeback Friday night when they face the Hancock North Central Hawks.

"Defense is the strongest part of our club. Our weakness is having young lines. Our running game isn't up to par," said Head Coach Joseph Brown.

Errors and fumbles caused the Pirates to drop last weeks game to St. Martin, 20-0, according to Brown.

He said injuries from the St. Martin game could have an effect on his team's performance this week.

"We need to get the kids back up mentally, they've been low since we lost to Bay St. Louis,"

Offensive starters for the Pirates will be Sammy Taylor at quarterback, Eric Dawkins and Jimmy Ladner at running back, Jerry Page at wide receiver, Jerrod McCollister at flanker, Raymond Ladner at tight end Tim Morel and Thad Williams at guard, Shawn Dedeaux and Chris Dedeaux at tackle and anthony Peranich at center.

The defensive lineup will be Donald Knight and Eldon Daniels at linebacker, Anthony Peranich and Jimmy Ladner at end, Tim Morel and Shawn Dedeaux at tackle, Eric Dawkins and Renaldo Delvallade at cornerback, Jerrod Page and Earl Washington at safety.

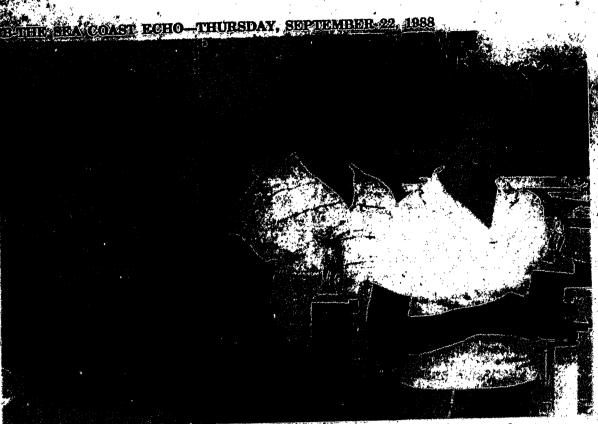

Brown sees the Hawks' running game as their strongest ability. He said his team will especially have to watch

Hawks' half-back Terrance Goff and quarterback Jeff Moran. He said the Hawks may have a weakness in their kicking

The Pirates also may be look ing to even a score Friday night since they were beaten last year by the local rival Hawks 51-0.
The kick-off will be 7:30 p.m.
Friday at Hancock North Central.

WILDLIFE ARTIST Lee Le Blanc, aged 74, of Iron River, Mich., a world renowned wildlife artist who furnished the artwork for Mississippi's first turkey federation stamp print, died recently.

He was the recipient of the Golden Mallard Award from the Arkansas Wildlife Federation in 1975. In 1981, Le Blanc was commissioned to design Arkansas' first duck stamp.

Le Blanc was a staunch supporter of wildlife conservation as many of his paintings have been auctioned or sold for various projects to which Mr. Le Blanc provided his suppport. One such project was a successful effort several years ago to fight the channelization of the Cache River. On July 30, a wild-

Hawkins flexes muscle at National Championship

BY D.C. HARVILL Waveland resident Charles Hawkins is competing against approximately 100 men from across the country Friday in the National Body Building Championship in Atlanta.

Hawkins earned the right to compete in the National by winning the heavy-weight and overall divisions at the Missis-sipp Body Building Championship held July 23 in Jackson. The winner at the National will go to the Mr. Universe contest. In order to compete in Mr. Universe, a body builder must be drug free; they cannot have used aceroids to assist in muscle development.

Shell debuts as MSU quarterback

Red-shirt sophomore quarterback Tony Shell made quite a splash in his collegiate debut 42-35 thriller with No. 7

Georgia. The Jackson, Miss. products came off the bench on MSU's third offensive series, completing all four of his passes and engineering a successful 66-yard first-quarter scoring Shell, whose only previous game action this fall was as a holder on point-after kicks in MSU's season-opening game, tied the score with a 22-yard scoring toss to Fred Hadley. He completed his first five passes en route to an 18-of-29 passing night that netted 266 yards and a school-record four touchdowns. Shell and junior quarterback Mike Davis, MSU's starting QB against Georgia. connected on a school-recordtying five touchdown passes.

Hawkins, a drug-free body builder, says, since the number of drugless competitors is not large, his chances of going to the Mr. Universe contest are good. "I'm going to be in the best shape I've ever been in," he said.

A minister with the Power House of Deliverance Church in Bay St. Louis for for two years, Hawkins views body building as an integral part of his ministry.

"I use my body," he says, "to go to the youth to tell them they don't need drugs to be a winner and to tell them to take care of their bodies because the Bible says the body is the temple of the Lord. Also if they take care of their bodies, it will help them have more self-confidence."

Twenty-three year-old Hawkins, in his eighth year of competition, is sponsored by Chiropractor Dr. D.J. Inkol and Self-Service Body Gym in Gulfport. He says he also gets a lot

Pearl River to host rival Jones Bobcats

For most in South Mississippi all that is required to denote the annual confrontation between Pearl River and Jones is simply to say it's time for the 'cat fight.'

The Pearl River Wildcats and Jones Bobcats will tangle for the 58th time Saturday in the Dobie Holden Stadium.

The long-running series is about as close as it can get, with PRC winning 27, Jones 28 and two ending in a tie.

Last year the Bobcats eased by the Wildcats 13-6 in Laurel, while PRC bombed the Jones crew 45-0 in '86. Usually the game is played as much on emotion as it is with talent.

"It's going to be good, typical junior college football game," said Mike Nelson, the Wildcats' head coach. "We expect a very aggressive bunch of Bobcats to be visiting Saturday."

The Wildcats enter the contest 1-1-1, while the Bobcats are sporting a 2-1 ledger. PRC lost to Itawamba 24-22, tied Hinds 27-27 and defeated Mississippi Delta 14-3.

Jones opened with a 23-17 win over Delta, lost to Co-Lin 29-22 and defeated Coahoma 28-12. In the South Division Jones is 0-1-0, while the Wildcats are 0-0-1.

The Bobcats, under new head coach but long-time Bobcat assistant Elmer Higginbottom, have put together a very scrappy team, according to Nelson.

"They are much more aggressive than we have been," said Nelson. "Their defense will really get after you."

On offense, Jones quarterback Leonard Williams is the man to watch, according to Nelson. "He (Williams) is very quick and can throw the football. He's very similar to our Eric Brister," said Nelson.

The Bobcats are averaging 24 points per game while allowing 19. Pearl River is averaging 21 points on offense while giving. up 18. The two teams, on paper, Nelson has 40 freshmen on his 55-member squad and Higginbottom is looking at about the same number. "It may boil down to which team makes the fewest mistakes," said Nelson.

For Pearl River that's not good news. The Wildcats have not put together four quarters of good play yet, even though the win over Mississippi Delta Thursday was much improved over the first two contests.

"We have been hit and miss," said Nelson. "To win against Jones we must have four quarters of hustle. We must also play much smarter football."

Nelson and his crew have been switching his defensive personnel around early in the year, "We've re-worked our defensive secondary and defensive ends," said Nelson. "I feel better about the combination we have in there now.'

Offensively last week Eric Brister had another good night at quarterback, whole sopho-more running back Roland Johnson finally found the

On defense Robert Jones, Raymond Spiers and Edwin Alexander looked much better. Frank Denard and Sondray Taylor have been pretty consistent on defense.

Last week the Wildcats' kicking game was not up to par according to Nelson. "We're working on that phase of our game now," said Nelson. Malter Scobel has attempted seven field goals in three games and has connnected on four. He has made five of six extra

Wildcats defeat Trojans, 14-3

Although flagged for 172 pen-alty yards, the Pearl River Com-munity College Wildcats produced their first victory of the 1988 football season Thursday "This game is always a good spectator game," said Nelson. "It's junior college football at its Pearl River scored two safeties in the opening quarter, added a touchdown later in the. quarter and kicked a second period field goal to defeat the winless Mississippi Delta Trojans 14-3.

Both safeties occurred in a five-minute span and came after bad snaps on Delta punting attempts. The Trojans kick-er was tackled in the end zone after the first errant snap. And the second bad snap rolled through the back of the end zone, giving Pearl River a 4-0

Roland Johnson had a threeyard touchdown run and Malter Scobel kicked the PAT as the Wildcats earned an 11-0 lead by the end of the quarter.

Scobel's 23-yard field goal on the first play of the second per-iod resulted in a 14-0 Pearl River advantage.

Greg Burke of Delta accounted for the Trojans' only points, thanks to a 50-yard field goal in the quarter.

The Wildcats racked up 272 total yards to 164 for the Trojans. Quarterback Eric Brister rushed for 79 yards on 10 tries while running back Roland Johnson picked up 74 yards on 12 tries. Jay Stewart, Edwin Alexander Chris Lacoste all recovered fumbles for the PRC defense. The Burke 50-yard field goal was a record in the Dobie Holden Stadium, which was built back in 1966. Pearl River is 1-1-1 and will host Jones Saturday. Delta is USM goes into the game fresh from a home encounter with Virginia Tech, while East Carolina last week played at South Caroline. Following this week's game, the Eagles return home to tackle the Louisville Cardinals.

Both USM and East Carolina are football independents who have enjoyed considerable success in recent years. The Priates use a "run-and-shoot" offense to go along with a "60" defense.

The two teams have played 13 times previsouly with the Golden Eagles leading the series 10-3. USM won last year's game 38-34 in Hattiesburg, thanks to a pair of punt return touchdowns by (now) senior defensive back James Henry of Poplarville.

Henry carried back a 65-yarder early for a 7-0 lead and later turned in an even more impressive 81-yarder in the third period. In a three-game stretch that included the East Carolina game, Henry accounted for four TD punt returns to set a new NCAA record in that department.

Eagles advance to 2-1

Playing in near constant rain and on a field that got worse as the night went along, The University of Southern Missisippi rallied from an early 10-0 deficit to post a convincing 35-13 win in Hattiesburg Saturday night.

The Eagles now are 2-1 and will play at East Carolina this week. The Priates played South Carolina tough before dropping a 17-0 decision.

The Golden Eagles, who have failed to score in the first period in three games this season and who again saw a blocked punt turned into an early tochdown, rebounded to take a 14-13 halftime lead and then outscored the visiting Hokies 21-0 in the second half. The win gives the Eagles a 3-2-0 edge in the series with the Virginia team. Saturday's game marked the first meeting between the two teams since 1976.

Golden Eagle highlights were not hard to find. Quarterback Brett Favre had his best outing of the still young season, completing 11 of 17 passes for 148 yards and three touch-downs while suffering one interception. Alfred Williams had four catches including one touchdown grab and both Michael Jackson and Eugene Rowell each had TD catches as well.

Senior James Henry had another big night in the return department with four punt returns for 62 yards and his fifth career score, a 44-yard jaunt in the third period. He added three kickoff returns for another 22 yards. Henry now shows 182 yards on 10 kickoff returns and 111 yards on nine punt returns. Head coach Curley Hallman had nothing but praise for his young squad following the game.

"We had several players turn in impressive performances for us tonight," he said. "I think we have continued to improve each week and I think that was evident in tonight's game. Virginia Tech was as good as we thought they would be, and it took an outstanding effort on our part to Over 17,000 Golden Eagle fans braved the elements to attend the Virginia Tech game. It also marked the second straight rainy home game for the Eagles who opened the season against Stephen F. Austin Sept. 3, also in the rain.

How to choose and use fishing line

One of the most important, clear water I use the lighter but most often neglected, items line," he says. "In clear water I of bass fishing tackle is the very normally use smaller lures to link that connects an angler to his fish—the fishing line. "Take care of it and it will take care of keep from alarming the bass, and smaller lures work best on lighter lines and with spinning you," is a familiar saying among professional anglers.

There is a lot more involved in choosing fishing line today than there was several years says Johnson Outboards Pro Staff member Jack Chancellor, "primarily because of the new developments we've seen in rods and reels as well as the new techniques we're seeing

"Just as tackle and lures have become more specialized for certain applications, lines have become more specialized,

What's happening, explains Chancellor, winner of the 1985 Bass Maters Classic, is that anglers (himself included) are gradually switching to lighter lines because these lines work smaller lures more efficiently. Smaller lures, in turn, are catching more fish, overall, than larger lures.

Lines are rated according to their breaking strength, which is expressed as pound-test. Although fishing line is manufactured with pound test ratings ranging from one to about 150-pounds, bass fishermen normally use lines rated between about six and 25 pounds.

Naturally, bass fishermen are concerned about fish breaking their lines on obstacles and cover, and a decade ago it was common for fishermen to spool their reels with 20 and 25-pound test monofilaments.

"What we've all realized," says Chancellor, "is that many lures, especially crank baits, perform much better with lighter lines. The lures dive deeper and wobble better because there is less drag on the line itself as it moves through the

"The same is true with certain topwater lures, especially poppers and chuggers, and it's true to some extent with plastic worms. The lures have better action because they can move more freely."

Chancellor advises choosing line according to the type of fishing an angler intends to do, as well as on the type of lake he's fishing. His own line choices range from a fairly light eight pound test to a moderately heavy 17-pound test.

MSU cross country team wins invitational

The Mississippi State University women's cross country team registered 27 points amidst the rain Sept. 16 to repeat as champions of the University of Southern Mississippi Invitational.

Louisville, 53 points, placed second.

Returning only two members from the squad that last year captured the USM Invitational men's title, MSU managed 159 points with a sixth-place tie with Tulane University and Southeastern Louisiana University. Tim Keller placed highest among State's men with a seventh-place time of 27:16.8.

Louisville won the men's team title with 63 points. Mississippi State's cross country teams will next compete in the Crimson Classic on keeps one rod permanently. rigged with eight-pound test mono, and with it he catches far more fish than with another rod rigged with the same type of lure but with 14-pound test line.

When fishing heavy cover such as rocks, bushes or trees the line is likely to come in contact with each cast, a heavier line choice is normally used. Chancellor recommends 14 or 17-pound test because with its added thickness nicks and abrasions will not wear through the line as quickly.

"We talk about lines being 'abrasion resistant'," says the Johnson Outboard's team angler, "and what we mean is that the line takes wear and tear better. Basically, heavier line is thicker in diameter."

Even with heavier line, it is important to check periodically for abrasions. The easiest way to do this is to run thumb and forefinger along the last 18 to 24-inches above the lure. If any rough spots are detected, it's time to clip the line and re-tie the lure.

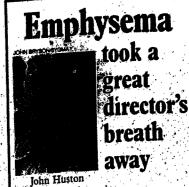

Abrasion doesn't always occur on underwater obstacles either. One often-overlooked cause of line problems occurs when anglers carry three or four rods together and line from one gets snagged in the reel of another. When this happens, the line is usually pinched and a potential weak spot is created.

"Another time you need to check fishing line is when an angler is catching a lot of fish," says chancellor. "The rough lips of a bass can fray fishing line quickly, and cause you to break play the fish to the boat."

Although the technology in manufacturing today's fishing lines is constantly improving, Chancellor recommends bass fishermen purchase only pre-a line when you set the hook or mium grade monofilament lines from well-known manufacturers, store the line in cool places when not being used, and remember to spool on fresh line at the start of each new fishing season.

Project Marine Discovery to open

More students than ever will have an opportunity for handson exploration of the marine environment when Project Discovery opens its 1988-89 program at the J.L. Scott Marine Education Center in Biloxi, according to Dr. James I. Jones, director of the Mississippi-Alabama Sea Grant Consor-

Sea Grant and Gulf Coast Research Laboratory have joined forces to expand the popular field trip program from two to three days per week for public and private school groups, grades kindergarten through 12. The program, designed to acquaint students with the plants, animals, habitats and processes of the marine environment, features a variety of activities led by educators and docents, trained volunteer instructors.

Sessions are from 9 a.m. until 12 noon on Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays. Students are divided into groups that rotate through four 40-minute activities and close with all groups gathering around the MEC's central Gulf of Mexico tank to watch fish feeding.

"That proved to be a hit with everyone last school year," said Dr. Sharon Walker, Sea Grant educator and coordinator of education programs at the MEC. "In addition to our regular sessions featuring Japanese fish-printing, beachcombing identification, laboratory experiences and videos, there will also be new activities for selected age groups and additional activities for groups that participated in Project Marine Discovery last year."

Costumed sea creatures, for example, will introduce kindergarten through third grade students to ocean environments in Face the Ocean, Dr. Walker said. Dr. Walker and Leslie Bruce, GCRL marine biologist and co-coordinator of the program, will be training more than 20 volunteer instructors who will work with student groups.

Admission per child is $1 to help defray the cost of materials and supplies, Dr. Walker noted. Teachers or administrators may make reservations by calling 374-5550.

Diamondhead slates sixth annual craft fest

BY JANET MCQUEEN

The sixth annual Diamondhead Arts and Creative Crafts Show scheduled for Saturday, Sept. 24 promises to be the largest ever, according to chairman Linda Wallace. The grounds surrounding the Country Club will house 180 vendors, an increase of 30 over the last two years. The event, which benefits Diamondhead Academy, has doubled in size since 1982.

"We are very excited about some of our new entries," stated Wallace. "A few craft categories have been filled for several months, as we limit the number of vendors showing similar merchandise to avoid repetition."

New items featured this year will include handcrafted rubber stamps and supplies; jewelry booths displaying handmade ceramic beads, handpainted wooden miniature pieces, polyform pendants, antique buttons and papier mache sculptured pieces.

Original art clothing will abound in handpainted two piece dresses and T-shirt dresses: tie-dyed dresses and sportswear and tropical Handcrafted and designed entertainment centers and home furnishings by the Madeline family of 'Hubbard's Cupboard' in Slidell are interesting and affordable pieces, according to Wallace. An unusual entry is Sheila McNeil's crushed pecan shell collectibles.

Original art and limited edition prints will be shown by David Abel of Mandeville, La., pen and ink renditions of homes; Sylvia Corban of Long Beach; Martin Benoit of Thibodeaux, La., Cajun art notecards and prints; and Lois Waltner of Lafayette, La., oils, watercolors and

Other artists include Sandra Smith of Diamondhead, portraits; Walter Van Dyke of Biloxi, a six year veteran of the show, oils and watercolors: Holly Scherer of Hattiesburg and Lois Powell of Long Beach, oil paintings; Katie Traylor of Laurel, Miss., watercolors and oil paintings and Linda Miller of Kenner, La., pen and ink and watercolors.

Returning crafters will show wood and fabric crafts; quilted wallhangings; silk and dried flower arrangements: pottery, ceramic and porcelain; handcrafted baskets; shellcrafts, leather goods and assorted others.

Lunch is available at the Country Club, which will feature a barbecue plate and deliplate assortment. Food carts outside will offer hamburgers, hot dogs and barbecue sandwiches with chips and drinks.

Wallace emphatically states that no parking will be available on the Country Club grounds, due to a "monstrous traffic jam" last year. A available. shuttle service will be offered from the Diamondhead Shopping Center for $1.00 round trip, or parking on surrounding side streets is

Bus Safety Week observed at Pass schools

School District will observe National School Bus Safety Week until Sept. 23. All schools in the district are displaying safety posters reminding students and adults of safe transportation practice.

Additional safe practices will be observed as students will be trained during the year on bus evacuation drills. Bus drivers have had instruction this year

UNO theatre lists 1988-89 season

The University of New Orleans is promising a picture perfect 1988-89 major theatre season, with plays for the heart, mind and soul." The season will open with the warm-hearted drama, The Diviners' by James Leonard Jr., Sept. 27-Oct. 2. Other plays scheduled are Christopher Bette and Boo, Nov. 15-20; Henrik Ibsen's Hedda Gabler, Feb. 28-Mar. 5; and Georges Feydeau's 'A Flea in Her Ear,'

Season tickets may be ordered now through the UNO department of drama and communications. Tickets may be exchanged for any available tickets to the same show on any alternate date, in the event a ticket holder has a change in plans. All performances are in the UNO Performing Arts.

The Diviners is about the Durang's "The Marriage of relationship of a disenchanted preacher and a retarded boy. who after a near drowning has an unreasoning fear of water and the gift of finding it. Performances are at 7:30 p.m. Sept. 27-30 and Oct. 1, and at 2:30 p.m. Oct. 2.

The Marriage of Bette and and at 2:30 p.m. Mar. 2. Boo' is considered one of Dur- 'A Flea in Her Ear' is a classical control of the control o ang's best plays. The playwright wields a double-edged sword of comedy and drama in this funny, yet devastatingly sad family album. The play contains mature language and ideas. Performances are at 7:30 p.m. Nov. 15-19 and at 2:30 p.m.

'Hedda Gabler,' an Ibsen masterpiece of drama, examines the conflict of a woman who has chosen security instead of love. Performances are at 7:30 p.m. Feb. 28 and Mar. 1-4

'A Flea in Her Ear' is a classic farce which tells of the hilarious confusion of identities and intentions that result when a wife attempts to prove her husband's fidelity. Performances are at 7:30 p.m. May 2-6 and at 2:30 p.m. May 7.

Costs for season tickets are $20, general admission; $16, general students and UNO community (faculty, staff and alumni); and $12, UNO students with IDs and senior citizens. Individual performance tickets are $6, general admission; $5 general students and UNO community; and $4, UNO students with IDs and senior citizens.

Voice of Democracy scriptwriting sponsored by Pass VFW, Auxiliary

"Preparing for America's Future" is the theme of the 42nd annual Voice of Democracy Scriptwriting Program being sponsored locally by Cecil R. Ruddock VFW Post 5931 and the Ladies Auxiliary.

The Voice of Democracy Scholarship Program is open to 10th, 11th and 12th grade students, offers local, district and national recognition and awards, with the top national awards being a $16,000

Post Commander Clem Harshbarger and Auxiliary President Sheila Ladner urge students interested in participating to contact Kenneth Bloom at 452-7497 or Lisette Callahan at 255-2779, cochairman of the Voice of Democracy program.

Participating students are encouraged to tape their script using professional equipment available at cooperating radio stations. The recorded script must be at least three minutes and not over five minutes in length. It can be recorded on reel-type magnetic tape at a speed of 7 1/2 inches per second or on a cassette.

Deadline for entry in the local competition is Nov. 1. Tapes will be judged for content, originality and delivery.

The winners from the state of Mississippi will receive a fiveday all-expense paid trip to Washington, D.C. next March, together with winners from Europe, the District of Columbia. Pacific areas and the 50

They will visit national monuments and meet high government officials. National wards in addition to the $16,000 scholarship for second through ninth place winners, total $42,500.

The program new in its 42nd year, is sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States of America and its Ladies Auxiliary "Participation in the Voice of Democracy program gives students experience in writing and speaking," said Bloom, "It gives them a chance to reflect on our nation and its meaning to them.

Pass Christian Schools expand gifted program

JEFFERSON PORTRAYAL—"The Return of Thomas Jefferson to Mississippi" will feature a portrayal of Thomas Jefferson by 17th century scholar, Clay Jenkinson. The presentation will be staged at Pearl River Community College, Wednesday, Oct. 19. Pearl River College, through a grant from the Mississippi Humanities Council, is bringing the unique program to south Mississippi.

The gifted program for Pass Christian School District is a priority this year for the district and JoAnn Brewer, gifted coordinator.

According to Brewer, the 1988-89 school district goals state that the district will devise and develop a plan for gifted education at the secondary level. At the present time the district is serving gifted students from grades 2 to 8.

At a meeting of the parents of gifted children which was held Sept. 21, Brewer encouraged parents to become involved in the planning of this high school program. Parents were also encouraged to form a parent advocacy group for gifted students. The parent advocacy group would work directly with a gifted task force to evaluate the needs of gifted high school students. The task force will include the high school principal. administrator, board member, teacher and a parent representative.

Other topics discussed at the meeting were history of gifted education, characteristics of the gifted and what parents can do for their gifted child, and cur-rent status of the gifted in the United States and Mississippi.

Every day, designers and manufacturers all over the world are finding new ways to improve product performance and cost-effectiveness with plastics. And every day, we're working to develop even more types of plastics for thousands of applications from automotive parts to food packaging supplies... from home appliances to business electronics.

The worldwide demand for plastics technology is always increasing, and the growth potential for the plastics industry is virtually unlimited. That

We recognize that excellence in industry is simply a reflection of the commitment to excellence by an industry's people—and the Baymar plant's people are an example. Your dedication to making quality products contributes to the success of those products all over the world.

The people of the Mississippi Gulf Coast and the people of GE have a lot in common. We share the desire for a good life for ourselves and our families. And we share a competitive spirit—the drive to be the best at what we do.

HOW TO PREPARE

It is too late to take some actions after an emergency occurs. Therefore, Hancock Medical Center advises you to know the emergency telephone number in this county—911—and the directions to the hospital with its fully equipped and staffed emergency department. Educate yourself about emergency procedures such as CPR and talk to your family physician about other precautionary measures you should be aware of. WHAT TO EXPECT

The emergency department at HMC is equipped with the most modern medical technology. Its highly-trained physicians, nurses and technicians can care for every emergency medical need.

The emergency facility at Hancock Medical Center is open 24 hours a day, 365 days a year, to treat any emergency that comes through the doors. If you should visit the emergency room, HMC will need to prepare an extensive medical record on you, and you should be ready to answer several medical and financial questions. cans turn to local emergency departments for help each year. If you have insurance, it will be helpful to have the company name and a policy number handy.

"Urgent treatment will never be delayed for paperwork, nor will financial situations ever keep you from receiving energency care if your life or limb is threatened," said HMC ER Medical Director Joseph Litner. MD.

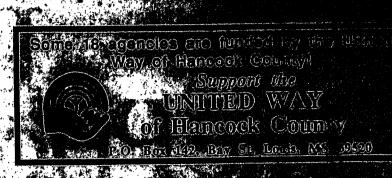

He added that patients in the emergency department are seen based on their need for quick medical care. Therefore, patients whose lives or limbs are endangered will always be seen first. Emergency department staff will try to keep patients informed of the reason for any extensive waiting period.

WHAT IS AN EMERGENCY?

Dr. Litner stressed that the emergency room is "not a place to treat colds and sore throats, and other minor complaints that can be treated in your personal physician's office." He advised that you call your personal physician if you have a question about a

However, many medical problems are emergencies and prompt action can mean the difference between life and death. Among medical problems that are considered an emergency are heart attack symptoms, such as chest pains, upper abdominal pain or a feeling of tightness in the chest area; breathing difficulties or shortness of breath; dizziness or faintness; unconsciousness or fainting; severe or continuous bleeding; seizure, major burns, high fever, spinal injuries, suicidal or homicidal feelings, shock, broken bones, possible poisonings or overdoses, severe or persistent vomiting, allergic reactions or a sudden rash, and sudden change in Less severe problems needing immediate medical attention are minor fractures, heat exhaustion, objects in the eye, ear or nose.

MDA donation made by ERA Bayshore

Bayshore Realty has raised more than $300 this year for the Muscular Dystrophy Association (MDA) as part of a nationwide fund-raising effort by ERA Real Estate, said Herb Dubuisson, broker of the local firm.

Nationally, ERA Real Estate brokers and sales associates raised $1 million.

Tom Schmitt, executive vice president for ERA Real Estate, presented a check for that amount to Jerry Lewis during the annual Labor Day Telethon Sept. 5 in Las Vegas.

ERA Real Estate became the sole corporate sponsor for MDA from the real estate industry in 1977. Since then, the franchise has raised nearly $9 million to help fight neuromuscular diseases, Dubuisson said.

"Every year, we try to exceed our fund-raising goals for MDA, because we are so enthusiastic about our chance to help fight the disease," said Dubuisson.

The local firm's fund-raising activities this year included dor-to-door collections, he said. ERA Bayshore is a member of ERA Real Estate, the nation's second largest real estate franchise. The company, which is based in Overland Park, Kan., has 2,200 offices in the United States and more than 500 offices in Japan, Singapore
